

Finally!

A Different Kind of Ergonomic Chair

Did you ever notice that all ergonomic chairs are pretty much alike? Not only do they look alike, they all have levers, handles, buttons, knobs and other manual adjustment controls. They also all must be properly adjusted or they can be extremely uncomfortable for the user.

Triune Business Furniture has a new idea in ergonomics: Make a chair with all the needed features, adjustable lumbar, tilting seat and soft waterfall seat front. Then make almost all the features self-adjusting.

Forget training sessions, manuals and instruction sheets. Let your chair adjust to you!

Triune Ergonomic Chairs

Those 'Others'

Out of the box

Just Sit!

Triune Ergonomic Chairs are almost completely self-adjusting, eliminating the need for lengthy training or manuals.

Multiple Adjustments needed for Comfort

Back tilt, back height, seat tilt functions are all necessary before the user is comfortable. Most users will require training sessions or detailed manuals.

Second User

Just Sit!

Once again, Triune Ergonomic Chairs are almost completely self-adjusting. When a different person sits in the chair they can immediately be comfortable and ready to work.

More Training

No two people are exactly alike. Each new user will require the same depth of training as the first user. Usually this doesn't get done.

Optional Features

Your Choice

Triune ergonomic chairs are available in high and low back models, without arms or with arms that adjust either vertically or both vertically and horizontally. For even greater versatility you can choose from two levels of mechanism control; either with pneumatic height adjustment, variable tilt tension and tilt lock or you may add complete knee-tilt, forward tilt and infinite lock features.

Generally no Options

Typical ergonomic chairs are configured with standard features. You may be forced to choose between various packages of features, none of which meet all your needs or preferences. Frustrating, isn't it?

Fabrics, Vinyls and Leathers

Customize from Hundreds of Choices

All Triune Ergonomic Chairs are available in any covering shown in our swatch collection or from the hundreds available at fabric suppliers such as Momentum Textiles and many others.

Black, Black or Grey

The usual choice is black or black. You may see 'Charcoal, Steel, Gray or Midnight' but it's really all the same. Someone else has chosen for you. Sorry!

Quality

Controlled by Triune

Triune begins with the design engineering of each item. Chairs are crafted to the highest standards of workmanship, using only the best materials. Our Ten Year Warranty is an indication of our commitment to quality. Our reputation for 'trouble-free' chairs and unsurpassed customer service complete the picture.

How do you Know?

Ergonomic chairs are often imported from a generic manufacturer and labeled with a brand name. Your customer service contact may or may not be with the actual manufacturer and warranties are often complicated.
